

HOW GREAT DO YOU WANT TO BE?

Goals are dreams with deadlines. — Diana Schaff Hunt

Ask yourself these questions – and answer them honestly....

Are you attending at least 90% of planned rehearsals in 2004?
Are you making Monday nights (and other planned sessions) a priority this year?
If you miss a rehearsal, how are you making up for the lost time?
Are you late to rehearsal? Do you try to be first on the risers?
Do you stand on the risers with a "dull" expression? Or do you give it your all?
Have you attended every performance?
Have you suggested holding section rehearsals away from chorus?
Have you attended them?
Have you gotten your row together for a choreography rehearsal?
Have you come early to chorus rehearsal to work on music?
Have you turned in all your tapes (basic criteria for public performance)?
Have you worked on the comments you received from your evaluator?
Have you taped yourself this week and done a self-critique at home?
Do you work on your music at home? Dynamics, quick breaths, vowels, etc.?
How often? Every day? Every week?
Do you practice your choreography and showmanship at home? In front of a mirror?
How often? Every day? Every week?
Are you making the right choices?

Move FORWARD every week!!
